Custom Built Homes: The Latest Trend in Modern Living !

Formed several years ago by a colorful mix of Thai and English professionals, Kensington is rapidly growing in reputation, as well as changing the way people live. It is not surprising either, that they become the popular choice for anyone wishing to build a property in Thailand.

Fashions and trends are changing; opening the doors for a whole new type of client who does not want to live on a big public estate where all the properties are the same, but wants their own individual property with more privacy; a property that stands out from the rest and one that personifies who they are; a custom built home containing all the rooms they want, all the facilities they want and built to a standard rarely matched in Thailand. No longer just the reserve of the rich and fashionable, custom built homes are all the rage !

Save Money, Invest Wisely and Get More For Your Money !

There is no doubt about it that by building your own property, not only do you acquire something new and unique, but you also get far more for your money, than if you bought one on a finished development. Fashions are changing and slowly astute investors are realizing this and turning to building their own home.

This normally means your budget goes considerably further and your investment is maximized; materializing in a bigger property with more rooms, more facilities, a privacy unmatched by development living, your own private pool and a standard of luxury you control. In simple terms, it's called savvy investment.

It means you get exactly what you want and you can customise your home to your personal choices and preferences; with the added bonus of knowing your property when complete, is probably worth more than you paid for it. Sounds a great way to go, for anyone looking for a place called home !
